Product pictures:

An European aircraft manufacturer in general aviation is currently looking for a strategic investor and partnership worldwide.

The company designs, manufactures and distributes 6 to 12-seat turboprop passenger and surveillance aircrafts. The aircrafts including the production site are up to date and match high quality and technology standard. The aircrafts can be used as passenger or surveillance aircrafts in general aviation but also as observer or special mission aircrafts.

Investment rationale:

- European manufacture with solid financial performance and industry experience
- Modern production site and equipment
- Technology, knowhow and patent
- All aircraft models are certified
